D-Day Wounded Arrive

The USS Refuge docks at Portsmouth, Va., with 500 Navy casualties . . . and here the hospital ship starts the job of transferring the wounded, most of them victims of D-Day fighting, to ambulances to be taken to hospitals. The vessel also put 105 wounded Army men ashore at Newport News, Va.

18-Mile Yank Gain in France

By GLADWIN HILL

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, July 31 (AP)—A high-speed American armored column, bursting through the Germans' scrambled Seventh army, has raced into Avranches in a dash of 18 miles from last reported positions and established today a pivotal line threatening the flank of the entire German defense in western France.

FRANCE—Yanks push into Avranches, 18 miles below last reported position, while British offensive reaches Galet, seven miles below Caumont.

U. S. Sights Set On Philippines

By Associated Press War Editor

Pacific Commanders Nimitz and MacArthur, attacking at both ends of their converging campaigns laid the foundations today for a new leap toward the Philippines. Communications told of attacks on Japanese positions from Tinian in the Marianas to New Guinea 1300 miles to the south.

The fighting men of Adm. Chester Nimitz, employing a "truly fearful" new secret weapon, bottled Japanese on Tinian's southern end, seized the island's main town and already had U. S. planes flying off Guam's Orate peninsula airfield. Upwards of 5000 surviving Japanese on Tinian have to be dealt with, however.

NEW NAVY TROOP

American warships for the first time since Pearl Harbor lay at anchor in Guam's harbor. With installations at Tinian and Saipan to the north Nimitz' powerful fleet, air and ground arms now have a toehold for great new operations to the west.

MacArthur held up his end with new air blows at Halmahera island, an inviting stepping-stone about halfway from New Guinea to Mindanao in the southern Philippines.

Other targets attacked were Vogelkop peninsula, Sorong, Manowari on New Guinea; Truk, Woleai, Namo and Ponape in the Carolines, Nauru Island, and bypassed bases in the Marshalls.

Patrols on Guam drove clear across the island to divide the Japanese defenders. Captured mountain heights gave the Americans new advantages in snelling out the enemy.

CHINESE HOLD HENGYANG

Chinese troops using American flame-throwers battered at Tengchung, main Japanese base in southwest China through which runs the Burma Road. Chungking seemed confident the city would fall shortly.

In Hunan Province the Chinese still clung to Hengyang. Stinging attacks by the 14th U. S. Air Force helped them do so.

Lone Yank Captured 80 Nazis

By WES GALLAGHER

WITH U. S. FIRST ARMY IN FRANCE, July 31 (AP)—A Pennsylvania private who was captured and in turn took 80 German prisoners of his own told today how air force fighters and fighter-bombers utterly destroyed a two-mile German armored column.

He is Pvt. Anthony Blazus, Jr., of the Second Armored Division, whose home is Fredericksburg, Pa.

A German patrol captured him at St. Dennis le Gast as he manned a machine-gun post and took him north toward Roncey where a German column was planning to break through the ring of armor and flee south.

The column was headed by two big self-propelled guns and stretched out for two miles, bumper to bumper.

"There was a German high officer standing in the road giving directions to the column," Blazus said. "He had red tabs and was a general of some kind but apparently was very drunk. All the other officers were running around giving him Hitler salutes. 'Then the planes came.'"

The Ninth Air Force fighters and fighter-bombers raced up and down the column. "They dropped bombs at the head on the self-propelled guns, blocking at road. Then they went to work."

The column belonged to the 17th S. S. Division.

"Terrific blasts ripped those big guns apart, tore bodies into a thousand pieces," Blazus said.

"Tanks on our flanks took off

Avranches is 60 miles across the Normandy peninsula from the D-Day beachheads, and a firm grip on the town would permit the American powerful tank columns to swing around the Germans toward Paris, 160 miles to the east, or chop off the Brest peninsula in an offensive toward the south. Avranches is at the right angle formed by the Brest and Normandy peninsulas.

10,000 PRISONERS

At any rate the Allies had thrown a 105-mile arc across the base of the Normandy peninsula ready for a break into central France, a situation which a qualified observer declared had "immense possibilities."

The iron ring thrown to Avranches shut another trap on Germans fighting around Granville and on a line from Gavray through Percy to Tessy-sur-Vire to the north.

Already 10,000 prisoners had been taken since start of the American offensive last Tuesday, and the remnants of at least eight Nazi divisions were rapidly being ground up by the American war machine.

Meanwhile the Germans faced further great in a new offensive by Gen. Montgomery's British and Canadians who launched an offensive on a seven-mile front from Caumont Sunday at dawn and smashed forward eight miles in the enemy's center.

BAG A DOZEN TOWNS

This drive had taken the village of Galet, at the peak of the spearhead, and rolled over a dozen other towns and hamlets.

Already this smash was termed success by British staff officers who had witnessed the capture of a 900-foot dominating height just east of St. Martin-des-Besaces in the Galet area.

Front line dispatches said the offensive still was rolling at furious speed under clear skies alive with Allied planes eager to exploit gains.

"The planes then racer up and down the column with cannon blazing and bombs falling until the whole two miles was just a tangle of bodies and wrecked vehicles. Then they moved off to hunt for escaped tanks."

"There was a great quiet and I got up from the ditch," Blazus said. "It looked as though every one was dead or torn to pieces but then about 80 Germans picked themselves up and came over and asked me to take them prisoner. They'd had enough."

Blazus made his way back to the American lines with the prisoners.

Russians continue gains against Germans... reaching to within six miles of (1) Warsaw, taking the old Lithuanian capital of (2) Kaunas and sweeping into (3) Gily as the Nazis fall back in disorder. First reports said Warsaw had been captured, but Germans staged tremendous defensive action to hold city.

Nazis Say Reds Ring Warsaw

LONDON, July 31 (AP)—The Germans indicated today that the Russians may have reached Warsaw proper and their communiqué acknowledged the fall of the former Lithuanian capital of Kaunas after a fateful Sunday in which the Soviet forces stormed seven miles inside the Suwalki triangle of East Prussia.

At Warsaw, German troops prevented strong Soviet forces from breaking through toward the town," the official Nazi agency DNB said.

A Berlin radio commentator said soon afterwards that the Russians were drawn up in an arc six miles from the Polish capital, within sight and easy artillery range of its old spires. The last Moscow report placed the Red army 20 miles southeast, but Berlin told of fresh retreats below the Polish capital.

BUILDUP FOR FALL

The military spokesman obviously was preparing the German home front for early news of the fall of Warsaw. Kaunas, second city of Lithuania, lies 35 miles east of the pre-war East Prussian frontier, and on the Niemen river. Moscow reported Red troops well west of Kaunas and said the Germans were throwing in many fresh men and reserves to halt a Russian push into East Prussia itself.

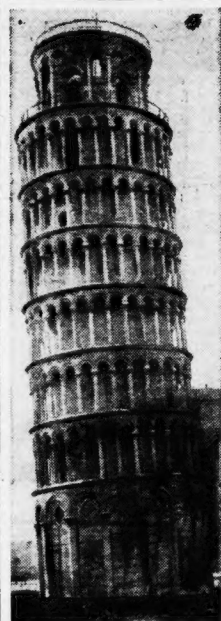

The plunge into the Suwalki triangle, which East Prussia annexed in 1939 after the fall of Poland, carried within 21 miles of the pre-war boundary of that German province of the Junkers military caste. Gily, seven miles inside the triangle, was taken by the troops of Gen. Cherniakovskiy, a Jewish general.

German reports said Cherniakovskiy also was attacking at Augustow, eight miles from East Prussia proper. Moscow said his Third White Russian army group was plunging forward on a 68-mile front.

Russian gains placed Red army troops within these distances of great objectives: Berlin, 335 miles. German Silesia, 125 miles. Riga, Baltic seaport capital of Latvia, 31 miles. The Gulf of Riga, 25 miles. Czechoslovakia, 13 miles. Krakow, fifth city of Poland, 83 miles.

Attempting to extract the sting from the latest batch of black news, the Berlin radio quoted a military spokesman as asserting the present retreat is the last phase of the German defensive warfare in the east and that soon "our offensive warfare will re-start."

The Moscow newspaper Pravda reported from the Tuzalki triangle area that "catastrophe" befell the Germans in the break-through and that the Niemen river was choked with the bodies of floating dead Germans. The dispatch said many Nazis were surrendering, throwing their arms in the air and shouting "kaput" (finished).

LEANING TOWER OF PISA

Nazis Say Pisa Tower Destroyed

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—NBC said today the Berlin radio had reported the leaning tower of Pisa destroyed by Allied artillery fire. There was no Allied confirmation.

Berlin contended there were no military installations in the tower or near it. Allied dispatches last week said the Germans were using the tower for observation. The leaning tower, setting out obliquely 16 feet from the perpendicular, for centuries has been an architectural monument and mystery.

There has been no reason to believe the architects who planned it—Bonannus of Pisa started off in 1174, and William of Innebruck completed it in 1350—deliberately achieved the oblique position.

It is generally believed the 179-foot tower, built as the bell tower, or campanile, of the great marble cathedral of Pisa, sank in the course of its building.

Dewey Raps Deal Failure In Peacetime

By JACK BELL

PITTSBURGH, July 31 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, asserting that the New Deal had failed to plan for postwar reconversion, declared today "it may not be long before the most vital thing that faces every American is his opportunity to work."

Arriving here for conferences with political, business and labor leaders, the Republican presidential nominee told a press conference the country should remember that in November it will be electing a President, "most of whose term will be in peacetime."

"As I see it," Dewey said, "the United States simply cannot face another period like the Roosevelt depression which lasted for eight years. With more than 10,000,000 men unemployed continuously from 1933 through 1940."

Dewey, who was greeted by a large crowd at the railroad station and spectators lining the streets on a circuitous parade to a downtown hotel, said he had come to Pennsylvania to begin work on "the too-long delayed preparations for reconversion of industry" which he said vitally involved employment after the war ends.

CHANGED HALF OF HORSE

"I think proper government policies can contribute enormously, and I believe successfully, in avoiding unemployment which so many now regard as inevitable under an administration that failed for eight years to meet the problem despite tremendous deficits."

Dewey said he planned to talk with political leaders about the campaign while here, as well as to discuss the post-war reconversion problem.

A reporter asked what he thought about the "don't change horses in the middle of the stream" slogan which some Democrats had voiced, in the light of that party's nomination of Senator Truman (D.) of Missouri, for Vice President. Truman replaced Vice President Henry A. Wallace on the ticket.

"TOTALITARIAN NEW DEAL"— "I should say that idea was demolished in Chicago—they changed one-half of the horse," Dewey replied.

"Which half?" a reporter asked. Dewey smiled, but did not reply. Observing that Pittsburgh produces one-fourth of the nation's steel and Pennsylvania one-fourth of its coal, the New York governor said he wanted to talk first hand with people close to the problem of continuing our employment levels after the war ends.

"We are making gratifying progress in fighting the war," he said, "but governmentally we are making no progress toward what happens after the war."

He said he was "entirely satisfied that opportunities in this country are still unlimited," adding:

"We don't need to surrender our liberties to a totalitarian New Deal. We can't afford to."

Although Dewey has scheduled conferences later in the day with local representatives of the United Mine Workers of America, he said he had no plans to see President John L. Lewis of that organization.

Belief Rommel Is Dead Raised by New Reports

LONDON, July 31 (INS)—Increasing belief that Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, Hitler's favorite commander, is dead is being expressed at the Normandy front, according to a dispatch early today from William Stringer, Reuter's correspondent with the Americans in Normandy.

Stringer said the reports now have come from so many sources, saying that Rommel died of severe chest wounds in a French base hospital, that one well-informed Allied spokesman declared they seem "so circumstantial they may make sense."

The BBC broadcast a dispatch from its correspondent, Howard Marshall, stating there appears to be "some degree of confirmation" for the report that Rommel was wounded when his headquarters at Lisieux, near Caen, were bombed.

"Gen. Baerlein, commander of the Second German Panzer Division, nearly was captured and only managed to escape on foot," Marshall's dispatch stated.

"One of his senior staff officers was captured and Rommel was unconscious for six hours after the bombing and was so seriously wounded that he was 'probably dead by now,' the report declared.

Germans Deny Rommel Killed or Wounded

LONDON, July 31 (AP)—German organs denied today that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had been killed or seriously wounded in France.

The German-controlled Scandinavian telegraph agency in Stockholm quoted Berlin official circles as saying that Rommel is "in good condition." A German trans-ocean agency broadcast said a telephone call to Rommel's headquarters today found the marshal shaving and "this report speaks its own language."

Germans Cling To Florence

ROME, July 31 (INS)—Reinforced Nazi units battled desperately to hold the last hill line six miles south of Florence today as British Eighth Army forces closed relentlessly on the historic city.

The latest communique from advance headquarters of the Allied Mediterranean Force reported small but important British gains in heavy fighting.

British attacks drove German defenders slowly backward despite frantic Nazi counter-attacks, as the British iron ring drew ever closer to Florence.

Can Dorothy Lamour Act? 22,000 Fans Are Satisfied

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD, July 31 (AP)—The fans, 22,000 of 'em, stepped in to give Dorothy Lamour her retort proper in an interview today.

The press agents had said that the sarong girl was terrific, slightly sort of sensational—in fact, good—in her first dramatic role.

"She doesn't sing or wear a sarong," they said. "She just acts."

They loyally refrained from mentioning that the latter, if true, would be news.

"Could be," the reporter muttered. After all, Deanna Durbin recently kicked over the ingenue traces and partook of heavy drama. Why not Lamour?

There she was, on the set of "A Medal for Benny." She wasn't singing and she wasn't wearing a sarong. She was wearing a peacock skirt and a low-cut white blouse—fetching, too.

About this acting, now? She gave the reported a who-me look. She wasn't buying any.

"I'll tell you," she said. "It's the best part I've ever had. It's an acting part—for me, that is. But I'm no Bette Davis and I know it. Not that I wouldn't like to be, but you know as well as I do..."

Just then a messenger boy came in, hauling three big marketbags full of mail. "The afternoon delivery, Miss Lamour," he said.

"How's the fan mail running?" the reporter asked.

"Oh, about 22,000 letters a week," she said matter-of-factly. "You can write your own moral."

Sharp Cutback In Sub Building

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—The Navy announced a cutback in the submarine building program today and attributed the step to two factors, loss of fewer submarines than we expected and the need or at least eight other types of ships or weapons.

CASUALTY—Cpl. Paul P. Doherty of Revere today was reported recovering from a tropical illness incurred during his 20 months in the South Pacific as radio man in a tank unit. He is at the U. S. Naval Hospital, San Diego, Cal.

On the basis of submarines known to be building or in commission, the American undersea fleet apparently is in excess of 200.

"The reduction will be accomplished by not starting a number of submarines scheduled for completion toward the end of the building program," the announcement said.

"Such men and women as are released over the next few months can be advantageously employed on other parts of the Navy shipbuilding and repair programs."

The Navy said priority now is for aircraft carriers and cruisers; new types of assault ships (fast, armed cargo carriers and transports); tankers; bombardment ammunition; rockets for firing from both planes and ships; 40 millimeter guns; machinery for advanced bases, and high octane gas.

The six yards now building submarines for the Navy are: Electric Boat Co., Groton, Ct.; Cramp Shipbuilding Co., Philadelphia; Manitowoc Shipbuilding Co., Manitowoc, Wis., and the Navy Yards at Boston, Portsmouth and Mare Island.

Youth Admits Seizing Woman's Pocketbook

Admission he seized a pocketbook from Miss Anne Elliott, 67, of Church st., Roxbury, was given in the police lineup today by one of three Negro youths arrested after they allegedly knocked her down on Washington st.

All denied striking her. They had been arrested less than a block away from the scene by police who also recovered the pocketbook. The youths face charges in Roxbury court tomorrow.

Five Plane Engine Plants Hit by Strike in Detroit

By Associated Press

Five Detroit war plants producing parts for Pratt & Whitney airplane engines and employing approximately 7000 men were left virtually idel in Detroit today by a strike of CIO unionists over rates of production.

The plants were in a group of six of the Chevrolet Gear & Axle Division of General Motors Corp. A dispute at the General Steel Castings Co.'s Commonwealth plant, Granite City, Ill., kept 4300 workers off the job.

At Roebeling, N. J., the CIO executive board prepared for a mass meeting to attempt to end the walkout of 3000 wire plant employees of John A. Roebeling & Sons.

At Buffalo, N. Y., 800 night shift workers of the Houdaille-

Hershey Corp. Houde Engineering Division plant were idle because of a wage dispute.

At the Ashland, Ky., shell plant of the Clayton Mfg. Co. 2400 striking United Steelworkers (CIO) voted three to one not to return to work.

Approximately 1100 employees at the Anaconda Wire and Cable Co.'s Marion, Ind., plant remained idle after a reported WLB delay on a wage increase petition.

Still unsettled were disputes involving 700 workers at the John Harsch Foundry, Cleveland, O.; 500 glass workers at Ball Bros. Co., Muncie, Ind.; 100 machinists at the Federal Mogul Co., San Francisco, Cal.; and 16 musicians at Radio Station KSTP, Minneapolis, Minn.

U. S. Heavies Batter Munich

LONDON, July 31 (AP)—More than 1200 American heavy bombers, escorted by nearly a thousand fighters, ranged over Germany and France today, smashing at objectives in the Munich area, other points in central Germany and airfields in France.

Some of the bombers dropped their loads visibly but others encountered thick clouds, forcing them to use overcast bombing technique. The air force announcement identified the German targets only as military objectives.

It was the sixth battering this month of the Munich area by armadas of more than 1000 British-based American heavy bombers. The Nazi shrine ity has five trunk railroads, one through the Brenner pass to Italy, and numerous aircraft and chemical works used in manufacturing flying bombs. American bombers from Italy hit it a seventh time in July.

The German radio said Augsburg, also an aircraft center, was bombed.

Congressional Medal To Lt. N. G. Gordon

HEADQUARTERS, SEVENTH FLEET, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, July 31 (AP)—The Congressional Medal of Honor was presented today to Lt. Nathan G. Gordon of Morrilton, Ark. Navy pilot who landed his Catalina flying boat in Kavieng harbor four times last Feb. 13 and rescued 15 downed American airmen under the guns of the Japanese.

It was the first Navy presentation of America's highest military award in the Southwest Pacific. Vice-Adm. Thomas C. Kinkaid, commander of the Seventh Fleet, made the award.

2 Bay Staters In Heroic Trio

Two Massachusetts Marines were in a trio which risked a Japanese ambush to stay with their mortally wounded officer until he died during the bloody cleanup of Saipan, according to delayed dispatches today from the Marianas.

They are Cpl. Merrill Grapes, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Waltham Grapes of Howard st., Waltham, and PFC John McGlew, 19, who lives with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William McKee of Lafayette st., Salem.

The three Marines and their lieutenant were cleaning out caves on the east side of the island when a Jap officer darted out and slashed the lieutenant with a saber, and enemy machine guns opened on them from both sides. The men refused to leave the officer, giving him what aid they could, until he died. That night they retreated to their platoon.

Police Kill Dog Injured by Train

Service on the Dorchester-Cambridge rapid transit line was delayed for 15 minutes today as the morning rush hour ended when an Ashmont-bound train struck a large dog between the Savin Hill and Fields Corner stations.

Several passengers on the train were shaken up as Motorman Byron F. Daniels slammed on the brakes in an effort to avoid striking the dog. The severely injured animal was destroyed by police.

Less Meat for Fall Seen, But Food Enough for All

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—Reflecting reduced supplies and a lower level of livestock production, civilian meat supplies during the fall and early winter may be 18 or 10 per cent below those available in the first half of this year. This forecast was given by the Agriculture Department today in a report on the food situation which said food supplies as a whole would be relatively plentiful during the fall and winter. Reduced supplies of meats and dairy products will be offset, the report said, by larger supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables and cereal products.

Living Costs in Late Spring "Up Slightly"

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Perkins said today the cost of living of city families increased two-tenths of one per cent between mid-May and mid-June.

The advance, measured by the Bureau of Labor statistics index, reflected a climb in the retail prices of all principal budget items except rent, fuel, electricity and ice, the secretary reported.

CIO has criticized the index as inaccurate as a base for figuring need of wage increases. Miss Perkins' statement today included this comment:

"The index does not show the full wartime effect on the cost of living of such factors as lowered quality, disappearance of low-priced goods, forced changes in housing, and eating away from home."

20 Pay $1450 Gambling Fines

Twenty gamblers were fined a total of $1450 in Dedham Court today as a result of an early Sunday morning raid in the Readville Manor section.

All were fined $10 each for gaming on Sunday, charges of conducting a lottery against Wilbur Donovan, of Sycamore st., Dorchester, cost him another $750.

For allowing a dice game at his home, Vincent A. Megrini, Beloit st., Dedham, was assessed $500. All paid.

TULE LAKE, Cal., July 31 (AP)—Fourteen recalcitrant inmates of the Tule Lake Japanese segregation center remained in the isolation stockade today, their 13-day "hunger strike" labeled a fraud by War Relocation Authority officials.

There is evidence the Japanese have been living on cached food that disappeared from the isolation kitchen just before the strike began, said a statement issued by the WRA.

Finnish Envoy U. S. Ousted Back Home

By Associated Press
The German radio reported today Hjalmar Procopé, former Finnish ambassador to the United States, arrived yesterday at Helsinki. He was ordered to leave Washington last month by the State Department, which said his activities had been against the welfare of the United States.

The broadcast said Procopé conferred last night with President Risto Rytli, Premier Edvin Lindfors and Foreign Minister Sir Henrik Ramsay.

Bowling Site Focus Of Mc Grath Probe

Concentrating his inquiry upon the bowling alley where little Frances McGrath was last seen alive on the night of June 10, Dist. Atty. Edmund R. Dewing summonsed 25 additional witnesses to testify today as he resumed his inquest on the girl's slaying at Hingham court.

Dewing declined to comment, however, on the absence of the name of a Scituate man from the day's list of witnesses despite the fact he asserted last Friday the man would be called to testify today.

Earlier, however, he had issued an appeal to any persons who were present at the bowling alley and may have been overlooked in the inquiry into the girl's disappearance and murder to come forward voluntarily to aid in the inquest.

Included in the day's list of witnesses were Margaret and Mary LaVange and Cladya Shone, all of First Parish rd., Scituate, who told police investigators previously they had seen an auto parked in the Norwell lane on the night of June 10, where the McGrath girl's body was found June 16.

Also listed were Oscar, Arthur and Oscar Ohola, Jr., all of Old Oaken Bucket rd., Scituate, operators of a cranberry bog, whose trucks frequently pass along Winter st., Norwell, from which the lane runs to the grove where the body was found.

Other witnesses, mainly Scituate residents, included:

Arthur Cross, Common st.; Frank H. Dwyer, Scituate ave.; Prescott Damon, Clam rd.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Josephs, Jericho rd.; Harry Powers, Turner lane; William McKeever, Pleasant ave.; Carl Thessia, his son Robert and Thomas Dickey, all of First Parish rd.; Alden M. Cummings, Crascent ave.; Guy Holman, Third Cliff; and Marcel Toupenoe, Barbar rd.

Also listed were John Maguire and Mrs. Mabel Marshall, of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Pascoe of Scituate, and Chester S. Donovan and Mrs. Lillian MacDonald, for whom no addresses were given.

Cat Keeps Vigil For Dead Miner

BELLAIRE, O., July 31 (AP)—The lonely cat of Cat Run, keeping a hopeless vigil beside the shaft where 66 miners are entombed, still waited faithfully today for the master who never will return.

Tom, an alley cat, has fought off efforts to remove him from the sealed mouth of the pit through which his owner, Odell Brown, and the others walked to their death at nearby Powhatan mine July 5.

The animal followed its owner to the Cat Run entrance of the pit the day the miners were trapped by flames deep in the shaft.

Tom watched while work crews sealed the entrance to cut off the air and smother the flames, but he refused to go home. He grew work from hunger.

Yesterday the seal was broken so work crews could build barricades nearer the flames, making it possible to work two-thirds of the mine while the fire burns itself out.

No sooner was the opening made than Tom darted into the pit and ran down the slope until blocked by a door 365 feet from the entrance. Carried out, he seemed dejected, but he remained at the mine entrance.

Marines in Solomons Invasion to Dine

Seventy-five Greater Boston Marines, members of the famed First Marine Division which launched America's offensive against the Japanese in the Solomons on Aug. 7, 1942, will be guests of the state department of the Marine Corps League at a dinner tonight at the Parker House.

Police cruiser cars converged on the bank and cops with drawn revolvers rushed into the building, startling bank officials who were not aware of the alarm.

When quiet returned the woman slipped red-faced out of the safe deposit room with the look of a person mentally vowing "never again."

Chaplain Brings Word Of Hub Boys Overseas

"It was almost as though I had talked to my own son. It made me very happy. I feel now that everything will be all right."

This, today, was the smiles-through-tears comment of a soldier's mother, one of more than 600 mothers, fathers, sweethearts, wives, brothers and sisters, who received first-hand reports about their loved ones from Capt. Laurence M. Brock, S. J., beloved chaplain of the 182d infantry.

The soldier-priest, at a stirring reception in St. Mary's School, North End, assured the relatives that most of their heroes of Guadalcanal and Bougainville would be furloughed home by Thanksgiving.

"Some here have experienced three wars and many have seen two," he said in his sermon. "All of us have suffered from the present war. Almighty God has called many boys to the service of his country in order that His holy will might be respected. Almighty God has privileged me to serve these young boys whose mothers, and wives and sisters and sweethearts are present.

ALL FAITHS WORSHIP

"I have been with them for four years, two and one half years overseas. My love for them is almost as great as your own. These boys have been receiving communion frequently. Attending services were Protestant, Catholic and Jewish boys.

"Towards the end it was very confusing to me. It was hard to tell which were Catholics. I said to one lad, 'I haven't seen you at communion lately.' And he replied, 'Father, I am not a Catholic.'"

Many touching scenes marked the reception which followed mass. Among those present to greet Fr. Brock were several men from his outfit, medically discharged because of malaria. They included Stephen Juskin of Lyman st., Walham, and Robert Doncaster, of Garrison ave., Somerville, who helped build the priest's famous "battle altar," from ammunition boxes.

FIRST-HAND WORD

Among the many receiving first-hand word about their relatives from Capt. Brock were Mrs. Margaret Hunt of Holyoke rd., Somerville, mother of Capt. William J. Hunt; Mrs. Walter C. Springer, mother of Pvt. Harry C. Springer, and Mr. and Mrs. John Lane, parents of Cpl. John D. Lane, all of Haverhill.

Also, Mrs. Thomas McDonald, of Saratoga st., East Boston, mother of Lt. Walter M. McDonald, and Mrs. Sarah Mason, of Eden st., Charlestown, whose brother, Sgt. George Kersissey is one of Fr. Brock's "boys."

MARCH HONORS MARINE—Sgt. Mary Hoffman, Cpl. Marjorie Morrison and Cpl. Walter Kennedy listen at the Esplanade as Carlton St. Croix Beyer, former usher, plays "The 21st Marines," a march he wrote in honor of his brother-in-law, Lyman Ham, a Marine last heard from on Guam. Beyer conducted the Boston Symphony Orchestra as they played the march in a world premiere rendition.

'Missing' Lynn Mother Returns

Missing since she left two of her children with a neighbor Friday night, Mrs. Ruth Pendexter, 28, of Essex pl., Lynn, returned home today and characterized reports of her disappearance "all a misunderstanding."

She was reported missing by Mrs. Josephine White, a neighbor, who told police Mrs. Pendexter left Charles, six, and Ralph, 16 months, in her care while she went to visit relatives.

Mrs. Pendexter explained today that she went on a short trip with the relatives and was unable to reach Mrs. White to notify her that she would be absent longer than she expected.

War Dog Can't Be Civilian, Dies

NEWARK, N. J., July 31 (AP)—Honorably discharged after more than a year's service as an Army sentry dog, Toby, a six-and-a-half year old German shepherd, has had to be destroyed because he couldn't break away from the ferocious traits drilled into him.

And now the news must be broken to his master, Lt. Angelo J. Sabia, who is in England with a tank destroyer unit.

"It'll break his heart. He raised him from a pup," said the lieutenant's father, James Sabia.

At first, Toby seemed overjoyed to be home from Fort Robinson, Neb., but as the novelty of being a civilian wore off, he reverted to his Army tactics of jumping at any one not in uniform and taking orders from no one not in khaki. Finally he turned against his guardian.

The Sabias had been warned by Army officers Toby might be unable to readjust himself. They offered to destroy him, but the lieutenant's parents wanted a try to teach him he ways of peace again.

900 British Internees Homeward Bound

IRUN, Spain, July 30 (delayed) (AP)—Three trainloads of British civilian internees—518 persons, 20 of them suffering from mental ailments—arrived in Spain today after nearly four years of internment at a German prison camp near Vittul, France.

The group completes a contingent of 900 British being exchanged.

The internees said they made most of the trip in German military buses, since rail communications were in bad shape.

Missouri Race Vital to Deal

Special to the Boston American
ST. LOUIS, July 31.—The state from which the New Deal has drawn its candidate for Vice President and its new national chairman will bring to a close tomorrow its primary campaign.

The stakes are a United States senatorship, control to the state government, and the electoral vote in November.

Senator Bennett Champ Clark, son of the former Speaker of the House, emerged in final hours of the Democratic contest as probable winner in his campaign for re-nomination for a third term.

If he should win, and Senator Clark should be defeated as Democratic Senate candidate, Donnell would be virtually certain to be Missouri's next Senator, and the state's electoral vote would almost certainly go to Dewey and Ericker in November.

Clark is being supported by Senator Truman and he has also been quoted as saying Mr. Roosevelt is for him.

Robert E. Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, is also openly supporting Clark, as is Mayor John B. Gage of Kansas City. Gage is a big help to Clark, for he will carry Kansas City and Jackson County by from 25,000 to 30,000.

Clark's primary opponent is Atty. Gen. Roy McKittick, who is backed by Chairman George M. Murphy of the St. Louis city Democratic committee and the CIO political action committee.

With the exception of the Kansas City Star, which is supporting him, Clark is opposed by virtually all the newspapers of Missouri.

2 Missing Boys, Both 3, Safe

Curious and courageous three-year-old Robert Johnson, of Grady ct., East Boston, and Terry Bryson, about the same age, of Bloomingdale st., Chelsea, are probably prattling tall tales of adventure to their neighborhood playmates today whenever they can escape the guarding eyes of their mothers.

Wet and bedraggled, the youngsters were returned home after having been found by Chelsea police wandering in Chelsea sq.

Malta Has 3340th Alert

MALTA, July 31 (INS).—The long beleaguered island of Malta had its 3340th alert Saturday night when German aircraft were reported approaching. Night fighters rose to intercept them but the Nazis turned away without crossing the coast line.

Dies Orders Swift War Ballot Inquiry

Special to Boston Evening American

LOS ANGELES, July 31—Cong. Martin Dies, chairman of the committee to investigate un-American activities, announced today in his home state of Texas he was taking steps to probe fully the premature casting of Federal war ballots by men in the Navy.

By telephone, Chairman Dies, who lives in Jasper, Tex., advised the Los Angeles Examiner he was instructing Robert Stripling, chief investigator for the Dies committee, to "go into the matter at once."

"I shall instruct Mr. Stripling in Washington to contact the Navy Department to determine what organizations are behind this situation and what inspired the whole thing," Dies said.

In his reference to "organizations," Dies was concerned principally with a statement made several days ago by a Navy official that American Youth for Democracy, formerly the Young Communist League, had been urging service men to cast their ballots early.

HELD SUBVERSIVE

Atty. Gen. Francis X. Biddle has held the Young Communist League to be subversive.

Two Californians, meantime, urged a complete investigation of the casting of federal war ballots by service men from California and other states.

Cong. John M. Costello (Cal.), a member of the Dies committee, suggested that premature casting of the ballots may be the result of a deep-seated plot to perpetrate a fraud on members of the armed forces and void their ballots.

"I think it is important to determine how American Youths for Democracy obtained the names of service men or otherwise was able to reach them with its misleading propaganda, and how extensive was the dissemination of its Communist propaganda," Costello said.

"It may well be they were interested in trying to induce the members of the armed forces to commit fraud so their ballots would not be counted."

RESENT LABOR FACTIONS

"It is no secret," Costello continued, "that the boys in the service are bitterly angry at certain factions of labor which have been fomenting strikes affecting the war effort and the delivery of supplies to the fighting fronts and that the service men are opposed to the New Deal tieup with these labor units."

"It is conceivable, therefore, that the motive behind the effort to get service men to vote prematurely was in anticipation that they would be anti-Administration votes and, because they were cast prematurely, they would be invalidated. This would have the effect of throwing just so many anti-New Deal votes in the wastebasket."

"This is not a case of mere accident. The information on the ballots and the affidavits accompanying them are so definite that it doesn't appear to be a mistake. It is ridiculous to think no one held the affidavits as meaning anything."

Murray M. Chotiner, president of the California Republican Assembly, said:

"If these invalid federal ballots—those received now or those quoted later on improper affidavits—were counted, it is not too naive to anticipate that court contests would follow with the thought of declaring the whole election invalid and thus serving to keep the incumbents in office."

12,000 on Common For Loyalty Show

Highlighting observance of "Loyalty Week," the Army Air Forces-Treasury Dept. "Shot from the Sky" show, biggest exhibit of enemy aerial equipment in the nation, will pay daily tribute to each branch of the armed forces this week on Boston Common, starting with a Coast Guard program tonight from 8:30 to 11 p. m.

The "Loyalty Week" drive to recruit 12,000 additional workers for Greater Boston war plants, is sponsored by the Retail Trade Board and local war industries, with cooperation of the WPB, the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and the War Manpower Commission.

12,600 AT OPENING

The famed "Shot from the Sky" show will present matinee and evening performances daily through Saturday. A crowd of 12,600 witnessed the Sunday opening.

Tonight's program on the Common will feature Johnny Johnston, singing star of radio and movies, now appearing at the Hotel Statler, the Coast Guard Port of Boston band, with vocal solos by Coast Guardsman James Joyce, and songs by T-Sgt. Webb Tilton.

Speakers will be SPAR Helena Gregory, USCG, organizer of the Polish Women's Sharpshooter Corps; Daniel Bloomfield, manager of the Boston Retail Trade Board; James G. Walsh, assistant WMC director in this area, and Lt. John B. Nash, of the Fifth Air Force, holder of the Air Medal, and an expert on Jap Zero planes.

VARIETY OF PLANES

The exhibit includes a bullet-riddled Zero fighter with the bright red sun of Japan, now setting; an ME-109 Nazi fighter plane, together with two fuselages of JU-88 medium bombers and fuselages and wings of Messerschmitts.

There is a Link trainer, used to teach pilots blind flying, which will be demonstrated by an Air WAC, and two barrage balloons tug at their moorings. Russia has sent captured German radio equipment, and there is a showing of 35 water colors by Maj. John Alvalle, famed camouflage expert.

The Boston Quartermaster Depot features a display of German and Japanese footgear taken on the battlefields, and a wide variety of more than 70,000 items of equipment which are furnished our Army.

Nazis Claim Sinking Of 6 Ships, Hits on 3

45 MPH Truck Speed Urged

WASHINGTON, July 31 (INS)

Upward revision of the wartime truck and bus speed limit to 45 miles an hour was being discussed today as a possible means of increasing utilization of trucks and buses during the crisis caused by the shortage of heavy duty tires.

Guy A. Richardson, assistant director of the Office of Defense Transportation, bluntly stated the shortage may prove "calamitous." WPB has allocated between 57,000 and 73,000 heavy tires monthly for August and September to meet requirements estimated at 165,000 a month.

5 in State Decorated As Sea Fight Heroes

Five Bay Staters including Lt. Com. Douglas M. Swift, the commanding officer, have been decorated for outstanding heroism displayed when the USS Lansdale was sunk in action with enemy aircraft off the coast of Algeria on the night of April 30, the Navy announced today.

Swift, 33, whose wife, Mrs. Elizabeth N. Swift, lives on Monmouth st., Springfield, has been awarded the Silver Star Medal "for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity."

Edwin R. Redfern, 20, Radioman 3c, USN, Harrison ave., Woburn, was awarded the Navy and Marine Corps Medal for going to the aid of an injured shipmate.

For his heroic efforts in assisting survivors, C. M. M. John W. Traffley, 28, was awarded the Navy and Marine Corps Medal with a citation for "extraordinary courage, complete disregard for his own safety, and outstanding devotion to duty." Traffley's wife, Mrs. Ruth Helen Traffley, lives on Beacon st., Brookline.

For maintaining fire from one of the Lansdale's batteries until rising waters silenced the guns, Ens. Stephen P. Mellett, Jr., USNR, 24, of Fariow rd., Newton, was awarded the Bronze Star Medal. Ens. Mellett was cited for "professional skill, exemplary conduct and outstanding devotion to duty."

Lawrence H. Tuells, 20, G-M 3c, USNR, Fernal st., Everett, was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for courageously firing on attacking enemy planes until his gun station was submerged.

Victory Gardeners Discover Taste Thrill

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head, Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School, and Director of the Boston Record-American-Advertiser garden on Boston Common.

First-time victory gardeners are enjoying novel experiences these days. For when gardens are beginning to produce heavily, growers who planted properly are reaping high quality products. New gardeners note a difference in taste between these and store products, and many find that vegetables they care little for taste much better when homegrown and freshly picked.

Due to poor growing conditions and serious attacks by aphids and beetles, the cucumber and late English crops have not made much progress. Many have complained of poor results, and it is questionable whether gardeners should grow them unless they can protect them from insect attacks and have sufficient water to prevent drying out. In many cases these crops do not set fruit because of the lack of bees for pollination.

VINE CROPS HEAVY FEEDERS

Vine crops are heavy feeders and will not produce on poor dry soil. Early potatoes now being dug may show some signs of scab. Common potato scab is easily recognized by the lesions on the tuber, which causes some loss in preparing the potato for the table. Small gardens may show this disease, especially if they were limed this year. A sweet soil encourages the development of this disease.

MUCH OLD SOIL INFECTED

In this area much of the old soil is infected and will produce scabby potatoes if the conditions are favorable. Do not plant potatoes year after year, and use commercial fertilizer instead of manure. Do not put wood ashes on the potato land. Avoid liming before planting potatoes. If you have had trouble this year make notes on what to do next year.

TOMATO BLOSSOM DROP

May be caused by several factors. Shade will check pollination, and tomatoes need a balanced fertilizer. In gardens where high nitrogen fertilizers were used the plants may make excellent growth.

Army Chaplains Lift Morale of Fighters

By HUCK FINNEGAN

INFANTRY UNIT, Northern Ireland—War brings men closer to religion and religion closer to men, but Corp. Francis F. Crisci, 19, of 53 Oliver st., Somerville, needed no war to convince him that his future lay in missionary work.

"I've had my mind up for eight years," said the young infantryman, who was class orator at Somerville High in '42 and attended Boston University a year before joining the Army. "I hope to go to South America eventually," he added.

Cpl. Crisci is assistant to Chaplain Newton Schoenly, whose wife lives in Weymouth, and leads the singing at the services in addition to his various other duties.

"My father (Rev. Ralph) is pastor of the Latin Baptist Church on Linwood st., Somerville," said the young corporal.

HAS TWIN IN ARMY

Another 19-year-old G. I. whose future in the ministry is PFC Harry M. Goewey, 125 Holyoke st., Ludlow. Goewey graduated from Ludlow High in '42, clerked in Westinghouse, East Springfield, before entering the service early in '43. He has a twin brother, but I haven't been able to visit him."

He's president of the servicemen's Christian League and works hand and glove with Chaplain William Jones, from Richmond, Va. Like many another G.I., PFC Goewey has gained 25 pounds in the past year.

Youngest chaplain this itinerant has met to date is Capt. Frank G. Hagemann, Jr., who for 3 1/2 years pastored the Central Baptist Church in Quincy sq. It's only 30. He was born in Newark played tackle and end for Nutley, N. J. High and was president of his class '32.

He attended Gordon College in the Fenway from '32-'36 and Divinity School from '36-'40. He married a Gordon co-ed, Grace Bliven, of Westbury, N. Y., and has a five-year-old niece, Timothy. Capt. Hagemann and son are now residing in Elizabethtown, N. Y.

The chaplain, who is built like an All-America football player, likes to tell of the Rev. Robert Stansfield. "He was an atheist, an M. I. T. grad and a member of the Army Engineering Corps. While attached to a CCC camp at North Reading he became converted, resigned his commission and took over a church in that town. Later he was pastor of the Blaney Memorial Baptist Church in Dorchester."

"He's in the Army again," says in the Army. "Guess they're over Capt. Hagemann, 'this time as a seas by this time.' His brother-in-law, Buddy Conlon, also is a soldier."

"By the way," said the chaplain in parting, after talking of Gil Dodds, Clarence De Mar and all, "is there a photographer in the American named Lester McQuinn?" He used to visit me in Quincy."

Chaplain Hagemann's superior officer is (censored), originally from Chicago. There was a First National Bank of Boston blotter on his desk, and he explained he had been on Gen. Wilby's staff at the Army Base as First Service Command chaplain. "I spent a lot of time at St. Ambrose parish in Dorchester," he said.

WAS AT CORREGIDOR

The colonel, in his 50's, is an old Army man. He was a chaplain at Corregidor in the Philippines from '27-'29 and again from '31-'36. He follows Gen. MacArthur's campaign with avidity. He is an old friend of Gen. George S. Patton, having attended his graduation at West Point in 1908.

Lt. Vincent J. Hines, 32, of 73 Coe ave., East Haven, Ct., is another young chaplain encountered in our travels. Fr. Hines had his own parish in Manchester, Ct., for seven years. "I have an aunt, Mrs. John Lyons who lives on Parker Hill ave., Roxbury," he said. Fr. Hines studied five years at Saint Sulpiac, France.

"I hope to visit it before I go home," he smiled. He speaks French, German and Italian fluently.

Pvt. Edgar F. Julian, 33, of 1 Lassier st., Salem, studied for the priesthood at Three Rivers Seminary, Quebec, and St. John's Seminary, Brighton, but never completed the course. He got a job with John Maloney Packing Co., 39 Commercial st., and married Theresa M. Couillard.

His brothers Bert and Eddie are in the Army. "Guess they're over in-law, Buddy Conlon, also is a soldier."

See Stalin Scheme To Dominate Reich

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND
Dean of American War Correspondents

The personnel of the German civil administration set up in Moscow under Soviet auspices and direction is of relative little importance. What is important is that this Communist German government, in effect, may be the symbol and portent of relations between Germany and Soviet Russia after the overthrow of Hitler's regime.

Fattered after the new Soviet sponsored and supported provisional Polish government of Communist and pro-Soviet elements installed the past week in liberated Poland in the guise of the Polish National Committee of Liberation, the Communist German "government" held ready in Moscow is the Free Germany National Committee of Liberation. Its head is Major Von Einsiedel, commander of a fighter squadron in Goering's Luftwaffe who was shot down in Russia. He is said to be the grandson on his mother's side of Prince Otto von Bismarck, famous "iron chancellor" who created and proclaimed the German Empire in the Hall of Mirrors in Versailles at the end of the Franco-Prussian War of 1870.

INFLUENCES GERMANS

While Hitler in Germany is executing or imprisoning aristocrats and stable conservative elements in army and civil life, Stalin in Moscow is using high army officers of rank as well as workers to influence public opinion in Germany in favor of capitulation to Soviet Russia.

Many barrels of ink have been spilled on many tons of paper. Many hours have been taken up on the radio, many letters written to editors, all discussing "what shall WE do with Germany."

In all that "what WE will do with Germany," little or no mention is made of the one man who is in position to have the final say, the last say and the big say in the destiny of 80,000,000 Germans.

That man is Marshal Josef Stalin, dictator and master of Soviet Russia. What HE is going to do with Germany he has not publicly said, but he is rapidly maneuvering a military situation that will give him the predominant political position to make known his say when the Hitler regime is overthrown.

MOVES FORESEEN

Stalin's independent and unilateral action of inspiring the installation of a provisional Polish administration behind the advancing lines of the Red armies in Poland, organized in Moscow of Polish Communists and other pro-Soviet elements and sponsored by Soviet Russia, may or may not be foreshadowing events in Germany.

The British have the admirable democratic system whereby they can call the head of the government and any cabinet member on the Parliamentary carpet and question him on his acts and his policy. A few days ago Parliament member Rhys Davies demanded to know of Prime Minister Churchill whether the govern-

Field Marshal von Hindenburg turned Germany over to Adolf Hitler, whom he but a short time before characterized as having "sufficient brains for a postmaster-general." Germany had 5,500,000 voting Communists and about 7,000,000 Socialists.

The Communists are still there and more of them. In 1940, competent authorities in Germany, discussing the possibilities of a Communist regime replacing Hitler in the event of disastrous defeat in the war, told me the Nazi state machine was so well organized that the replacement of 7000 to 12,000 Nazis in key positions by equally efficient Communists would transform it into a Communist machine without shock sufficient to disrupt it.

What the Anglo-American attitude, together with the demand for unconditional surrender, may now more than ever bring about is, when the end does come, the German people will turn to Communist and to Soviet Russia, be it for weal, be it for their woe.

SKETCHES FROM NORMANDY . . .

By Burris Jenkins, Jr.

From Life

In the European theatre of war operations for the Boston American and other Hearst newspapers, Burris Jenkins, Jr., sends back these sketches from life. Jenkins writes of the sketch at left: "This is an American battery of howitzers, almost hub to hub, outside of St. Lo - part of the greatest artillery force in the world - that is pounding the Germans back to Paris. These crews have been going strong for five days, getting only four hours sleep at a time."

Taking Risks With Security

A CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE investigating the policies and practices of the Federal Communications Commission has reported the seizure of confidential government documents in a Washington apartment jointly occupied by two Federal employees—one an American-born Japanese and the other a native of Japan.

The legal representative of the commission has suggested that the matter is of no consequence, while admitting the "impropriety" of the obvious diversion and apparent concealment of the documents.

He bases this remarkable assumption on the fact that the documents, while comprising "restricted" information, only related to matter "which any one can intercept with a good short wave receiver" and were not important in the sense of being "security material."

The matter, however, is of very great consequence.

It illustrates the willingness and determination of responsible government agencies to take GREAT RISKS WITH NATIONAL SECURITY in the furtherance of their program giving freedom of the country to the potential enemies of the country.

It illustrates, moreover, one of the most persistent and pernicious policies of the Roosevelt administration.

It is a direct result of the administration policy of CODDLING the Japanese.

Undoubtedly coddling of the Japanese is a ROOSEVELT policy.

It could not otherwise be so persistently pursued.

BOTH OF THE JAPANESE involved in this incident were formerly interned in war relocation centers, and were subsequently released to take employment with the Federal government where they had access to confidential documents.

What they did with impropriety in this case—if that is ALL they did—they could conceivably do in other circumstances with great harm to the country.

Why should such a chance be taken with the vital interests of the country?

Indeed, what RIGHT has any government agency to take chances with national security?

The Federal government does not seem to be able to realize, in its coddling of Japanese residents of the United States, that we are at war with Japan.

It refuses to recognize the fact that among these Japanese residents are the entire body of Japanese spies, saboteurs and subversionists established in the United States before the war—and highly trained and extensively organized for the purpose of conducting war against the United States.

Of course there might be innocent and even loyal Japanese among them.

But what American official or agency can be relied upon to distinguish between them?

THE UNITED STATES ARMY certainly did not consider itself capable of making that distinction, because one of its first acts after the outbreak of war was to isolate ALL Japanese who were residents of the Pacific Coast region.

The War Relocation Authority has purposely and consistently undermined that sound program.

It released two thousand Japanese in a year and a half to the Middle Atlantic and New England states alone.

The Army program for dealing with the Japanese should have been our PERMANENT national program.

It was a humane program.

It was a sensible and safe program.

It unquestionably saved the nation from a wave of damaging and perhaps crippling sabotage early in the war.

Washington Scene . . . By George Dixon

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, July 31—All I hope is that Manpower Comr. Paul V. McNutt has to put up at a hotel one of these days. That's all I hope.

I appreciate, of course, that Comr. McNutt is a dauntless fellow, inured to hardship by roughing it in the Social Security Building, but I cannot believe he has stayed at many hotels lately—not the kind I stay at anyway.

Otherwise I do not see how he could have forced himself to pass that edict for a drastic reduction in hotel service.

Among things he ordered were: A limit of two face and one bath towels a day. (In my last hotel I couldn't find an extra towel, even for swiping.)

A change of bed linen no more than twice a week for patrons not on a daily basis. (Suggested hotel theme song: "I Wouldn't Change You for the World.")

Maid service only once a day—no pulling down the bed spread at night. (All right, I'll pull it down myself, even if I get muscle-bound.)

A 50 per cent cut in room service. (How?)

I wonder where Comr. McNutt stayed while attending the Democratic National Convention in Chicago?

A YOUNG FELLOW with a frank, open countenance—as they used to say in the Alger books—was telling a group in the White House press room the other day that he had just gotten a very soft job down at one of the radio stations. "What do you do?" he was asked.

"I love you," says that as her husband does not use a stamp on the letters he sends from the fighting front he writes "free" upside down.

ASKING: Queries from clients: Q—Is it true that it is impossible for two blue-eyed people to have a brown-eyed baby? A—Never heard of such a claim. Don't believe there is anything to it. For a blue-eyed husband and wife to harbor such a belief would seem unwise and might lead to domestic difficulties in the event eye of their babies was brown-eyed. Q—What writer of war poetry did you say had done the most for morale of the wives of service men? A—I said Patience Strong had done the most for the morale of the wives of British service men. Her poetry is widely read in England and should be here. The following titled, "We Shall Be Happy," by Miss Strong, gives you an idea of the type of verse she writes:

Whether you come when the red leaves are falling, Or when the blossom is breaking like foam on the shore, Wherever you come in the light of the darkness I shall be waiting to welcome you home.

WE shall not need of the summer's bright glories We shall not grieve if the skies turn to rain For love in our hearts will be making the sunshine. We shall be happy, together again.

INTERESTING SIGHT: There are many interesting things to be seen in Rome these days that are not mentioned in the guide books. One of the sights of a Japanese ambassador being escorted by a group of U. S. military police on motorcycles. Ken Harada, Japanese ambassador to the Holy See, recently visited the U. S. military police escort on his trips from his home in Rome to the Vatican and return.

CLEVER WIFE: A young matron of Manhattan is very fond of reading in bed until a late hour. Her husband is not an enthusiastic reader and likes to turn out the light and go to sleep. This clever and resourceful wife solved this domestic difficulty by learning to read in the dark by the use of the Braille system. She read "Gone With the Wind" this way.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Chicagoan says his birthday, that of his wife and also of his wife's mother are all on Aug. 18. Very unusual. No chance of this man forgetting his mother-in-law's birthday. That's a lucky break for him. Mothers-in-law whose birthdays have been forgotten are very hard to handle. . . . Now have a reader in Manitowish, Wis. Her name is Angie. Haven't encountered that name for a long time. When in college I knew a girl from Boston named Angie Monahan. She was a very beautiful brunette. She had a friend who was an equally beautiful redhead. They made an unusual combination. You hardly ever see a brunette and a red-haired girl who are close friends. But I don't know why. I'll have our H. & W. Department investigate this.

There seems to be a language of stamps. But those who claim to understand it appear to disagree. For example, some say a stamp upside down means "A kiss," others say it means "I love you" and still others claim it means "do you remember me?" There is also considerable disagreement among the stamp language experts as to what a stamp placed sideways or at an angle means. Anyway, a Navy wife, who claims an upside down stamp means "I love you," says that as her husband does not use a stamp on the letters he sends from the fighting front he writes "free" upside down.

"It is a cinch," he said. "I pinch the girl who goes 'Rinso . . . White!'"

I WOULD LIKE to step out of character briefly to tell you something about Lt. Gen. Lesley McNair, highest-ranking American officer to be killed in the war.

Gen. McNair was on duty here before going overseas. He loved music.

He had one song he loved above all others. At the Shoreham he would have Barne, the dreamy maestro, play it at intervals all evening long. The song was:

"The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise."

I HAVE JUST received a letter from a pal in England which contains this utterly cryptic passage:

"Today I let you put 5 or 6 inches of water in the bath tub. I tell you, it does not come up to expectations."

I WROTE A PIECE recently that the Democratic National Convention was probably unconstitutional because Herbert Bayard Swope was not present to throw out the first vice president.

Today I received this letter:

"You know, dear George, I felt a lack in the Democratic Convention—a grave deficiency—but I could not tell what it was until I read your column."

"Thanks for being so continuously informative."

"Herbert Bayard Swope."

MR. ERICH BRANDEIS, author of the column "Looking at Life," had this story, which he got from George McManus, creator of Jiggs and Maggie.

A movie actor was walking his dog in Hollywood when an acquaintance came along and started admiring the beast.

"Must have cost you a lot," said the acquaintance.

"Yes," said the actor, "that dog cost me $100,000."

"A hundred thousand dollars cash?"

"No," said the actor, "I traded two $50,000 cats for him."

REP. JIMMY MORRISON, of Louisiana, is not what might be called a retiring type.

He was trying to get a Pullman reservation out of here the other night, but was informed there wasn't enough space left on the train to hang a hat.

He was arguing with the ticket seller when he overheard a man at the next window ask for a drawing room on the same train—and get it.

"Look at that," bellowed Jimmy. "That fellow just got one."

"I know," said the ticket seller, "but it was the last we had."

Morrison buttonholed the lucky purchaser and said:

"How about sharing your drawing room?"

The fellow drew himself up haughtily and said:

"I don't even know you."

Jimmy identified himself, whereupon the fellow said:

"Well, Congressman, you certainly have your nerve."

"Sure," grinned Jimmy. "How do you think I got to be a Congressman?"

JIMMY swears it worked—and that he shared the compartment.

"He turned out to be a decent sort of chap, after all," reported James, "but do you know—I never thought to ask him his name."

"Tell him we can't be all night deciding on what type of barbed wire to lay!"

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, July 31—What a picture for Clark Gable, "The Life of Lucky Baldwin," who was one of California's most colorful characters.

Louis B. Mayer told me Producer Everett Riskin is now preparing the Baldwin biography for Clark and there are two women of equal importance, who were wooed and won by that impetuous gentleman.

Eddie Mannix, who is enthusiastic over Clark's making this picture, said the story, by Ethel Hill, had been bought from 20th Century-Fox and it had taken months to clear the film rights with the family. Baldwin owned the first big American racing stable. He liked horses and women, but his actual fortune came from gold mines. The big Baldwin estate is in Arcadia, Cal., and when he died he left a huge fortune to his daughters, Anita Baldwin and Clara Baldwin Stocker. Both are dead, and Capt. Baldwin, Anita's son, heir to the estate, is now with the armed forces overseas.

MARTHA TILTON, with the Jack Benny troupe in the South Pacific, writes: "We were recently in Tarawa. The men there hadn't seen a woman for about 22 months, so you can imagine the reception Carole (Lund) and I received. I helped serve for a while in the mess hall and you should have seen the expressions on the faces of the men when they walked in and saw a girl serving food. They nearly dropped their trays. After breakfast they drove us around the island and showed us where the heaviest fighting took place. There are still lots of wrecked tanks, both Jap and American, on the beaches and a few wrecked planes. The cemetery is very beautiful with the tropical flowers growing everywhere—but I couldn't bear to walk through the rows of neat white little crosses that carried the heart of some American woman with each printed name."

HAROLD HOPPER, executive head of the motion picture photographic division of the War Production Board in Washington, and well-liked in Hollywood, will get the job of general manager at Metro, permitting L. B. Mayer, Eddie Mannix, Ben Thau and Sam Katz more time on productions now planned. Hooper, who was recently elected president of the Motion Picture Society of the Americas, is not new to movies. He started 25 years ago with the Ben Wilson productions.

BEING BOSS of your own movie company is a lot of work, but don't tell me Bing Crosby and Don Ameche aren't having fun with their independent films. Don called me today to say his first story has been selected. It's "Love Like Ours," a romantic comedy by Gerald Adams and Jon Alamy about a returned soldier who discovers his fascinating wife has raised a lot of havoc in the bosom of his family. "The wife's role is an important one mine," says Don. I kidded him by saying "I thought your first would be a biographical character of some sort." There was no answer from the other end—and it served me right.

"Will it creak and wake up my father, when I'm kissed?"

CHIATTEEN IN HOLLYWOOD: The usually reserved Fred Astaire was in great form when I met him a few days ago on the "Ziegfeld" set. His race horse, "Triplegate," had just come in. Yeah, he had had a bet on his nag, as had all his pals at M-G-M. "You know, I've never had a racing stable in America until this year," he told me, "but I am now starting a new string of horses." His horse ran at Jamaica and, as Fred says, has a future, since it's young and of good stock. Greer Garson, just back from San Diego where she's been visiting her husband, Lt. Richard Ney, told me she is making clothes tests for "The Valley of Decision." She speaks with an Irish accent and someone at the M-G-M studio suggested to her she be given a coach to teach her the right brogue. Greer burst into the swiftest brogue you ever heard and said, "What? Teach me? I was born in Ireland!"

Boston American, July 31—19

And so she was, and so was her mother.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: Here's something for the book. Lupe Velaz and Helmut Dantine. Yeah, she and De Cordova have had another battle and she has been seeing Dantine; Maj John Huston's original screen story, "Frankie and Johnnie," rejected by the Hays office, has been sold as a stage musical. It will be re-named "She Done Him Wrong"; There will be no hard-fought legal battle between Bonnie Edwards and Al Barber. They dined at the Clover Club with their respective attorneys. State Senator Jack B. Tenney and Hallam Mathews. An amicable settlement was made. Bonnie, former wife of Tommy Manville, is said to have received in the neighborhood of $160,000.

JOHN SCOTT TROTTER, orchestra leader for Bing Crosby and composer of many tunes, has bought Marson's ranch. One nice thought in selling the place we have so much is someone who also loves it now lives there: Andrea King, in Warner's "The Very Thought of You," snagged a home run, but so did Dennis Morgan; Irene Rich may make her name come true. A big company is drilling for oil on her ranch; Dick Powell and June Allyson are bringing their romance out in the open and were at the Clover Club the other eve; sympathy goes to Rose Stevens. Her brother, Pat, Bud Stevens, was killed in action in France. Rise, whose baby is six weeks old, has been very brave; Van Cartnell of Doubleday Deane has been talking with Fette Davis about writing a book and she is greatly interested. He also says the book May Anita Loos and Walter Duranty have just finished is terrific.

TENNIS IS HOT this week at the swank Wianno Club on Cape Cod, where members and guests are tuning up for the Red Cross tournament benefit on Aug. 4, 5 and 6.

William V. Tripp of Chestnut Hill, chairman of the club's tennis committee, has arrived at Wianno's Green Lodge and is directing arrangements. Among the many tennis enthusiasts are A. N. Conant of Dedham, and his daughter, Julie Conant, who with Mrs. Conant are spending a vacation at the club. Others seen on the courts daily are Mr. and Mrs. U. Haskell Crocker of Milton, Miss Barbara Graham Edgar of Wellesley, Miss Ann Shedd of Concord, Mrs. James H. Tatman of Chicago and Elliott Nugent of New York.

AFTER A YEAR'S layoff, the Longwood Cricket Club duffers resume for Intown vacationists with the first of a series scheduled for Friday evening.

Russell Sturgis Codman, Jr., chairman of the house committee, is in charge of arrangements, assisted by William W. Taft, Jr., Charles R. Carroll, Jr., Molly Wood and Anne Mitchell.

DANGER! Cake Make-up
May Cause Dry Skin, Coarse Pore-Mouths, Science Warns!

CAN YOU SEE THESE SYMPTOMS?
Big Pore Openings? Dry Skin?
Rough Flakes? Little Bumps? Little Lines?

For that "baby-texture look" without danger, try Lady Esther Face Powder!

Are you using cake make-up on your lovely, delicate skin? If so, here's something I'd like you to consider before you use it even once more!

Run your finger-tips gently over your skin. Does it feel a little dry and rough, a little flaky—a little bump here or there?

Now examine your skin carefully, in bright sunlight! Is it as fresh and young-looking as you want it to be—or does it look even a little older than you are? Is it beginning to look a little coarse . . . bumps here and there?

Why let this tragic thing happen to your lovely skin—even for one more evening? You don't have to risk these dangers to get the smooth, flawless texture you want! You can get a much lovelier effect—without danger—a softer, fresher, far more appealing look to your skin—with Lady Esther Face Powder! And its flattery will stay with you 4 long hours at a time.

Why it gives a Baby-Texture look to Your Skin
Lady Esther Face Powder is made an entirely new way. It's blown by the force and speed of hurricanes, instead of being just mixed or sifted. As a result it is smoother and finer than face powder has ever been before. It flatters your skin with a film of beauty, hiding little lines and blemishes—giving that smooth, even "flawless" look you want. It has what I call a "baby texture"—for it seems to create a delicate, baby-fine smoothness on the surface of your skin. Men love it!

Try Lady Esther Face Powder in one of its 9 different, exciting shades. Get the smallest-size box if you like, but try it! See for yourself why more lovely women now use Lady Esther Face Powder than any other kind!

What is your experience with cake make-up? Write me, 7176 W. 65th St., Chicago, Ill.

FACE POWDER
Gives skin a "baby texture" that clings for 4 long hours

CREAMS ARE AS SOUND AND ESSENTIAL for skin beauty as bread and milk . . . and while no skin needs all of them . . . every skin should have some of them . . . especially the dry skin which definitely needs the softening lubrication of a night cream and an irradiated beauty cream which brings a fresh, moist radiance to the complexion very quickly. Lovely Ann Shirley poses.

Choice Summer Platters

By MARTHA LEE

DURING THE SUMMER the selection of ready-to-eat meats available in retail markets is especially complete. This is a good time to learn to recognize the different kinds and try new ways of serving them. In becoming acquainted with the ready-to-eat meats, it is interesting to know that many of the sausages sold in markets here are made according to recipes developed in Europe.

DRY SAUSAGES

To meet the demand for sausages with extra keeping qualities, dry sausages were developed in southern Europe. Some dry sausages are smoked and dried while other varieties are dried without smoking. Salami and cervelat are examples of the two types of dry sausages.

As might be expected, these sausages are firm textured and easily sliced into any desired thickness. They are excellent for sandwiches or cold meat platters or they may be chopped and added to hot dishes such as scrambled eggs or scalloped potatoes.

IF YOUR SKIN is either dry or oily . . . congratulations! Yes, that's right . . . because, strange as it may seem to those of you who consider yourselves "afflicted" with a skin that's either flaky-dry or shining with oil . . . both complexion types hold promise of exquisite skin beauty . . . and, if properly treated can bring thrilling results.

The dry skin is usually very delicate, porcelain-fine. With the right softening care . . . it can bloom like a rose. The oily skin seems to hold the appearance of youth much longer . . . because fine surface lines don't form so easily. So, you see, it is really a matter of choosing the beauty creams which your particular skin requires . . . and you may have the supreme joy of making your complexion lovelier than you ever dreamed.

Let us concern ourselves today with the dry skin . . . the skin that is deficient in natural oils. To keep it smooth and supple . . . to aid in preventing fine surface lines and wrinkles that usually follow neglect . . . special lubrication is desirable.

Two creams . . . a night cream and an irradiated beauty cream . . . if used alternately following basic cleansing . . . will materially help any complexion in this category. The night cream is a luxuriously fragrant and silky cream . . . exceptionally rich and light in texture. It does much to keep the skin looking smooth, soft and gloriously fresh . . . and tends to discourage those hardly noticeable fine lines . . . which if not cared for in time become definite and visible.

CREAM DIFFERENT IN ITS BLENDING

Add to this night cream the use of an irradiated beauty cream . . . one of the most fascinating in the entire line of this noted cosmetician . . . and you have a cream with an unusual action . . . for in many cases . . . it seems to bring a fresh, moist, radiant look to the skin very quickly.

Whether your skin is dry, oily or neutral, it should appear moist to present your most flattering, fascinating complexion to the world. This irradiated beauty cream is as different in its ingredients and blending as it is in effect . . . creating the appearance of a dewy, petal-like softness inherent in a fresh, normal skin. Many of the oils of which it is made are similar to the secretions of the skin itself. In its blending, a complex, new use of ultra-violet ray irradiation is employed. It contains no water . . . and used with the night cream . . . stimulates and hastens effectiveness, keeping the skin humid, fresh and smooth.

For the name of this unusual irradiated beauty cream and night cream, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBERTY, 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Worst Husband?

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: Please advise me what a wife can do to make a husband come home at night. I'm expecting a baby any day now, I bed patients. At the end of one of these wards live quite a distance from the neighbors, and have come upon four wounded German prisoners. Their no telephone. My husband stays out all night sometimes, and doesn't even bother to find out where he is. I am sure I am alone in every way we live up to the Geneva convention, and I only hope our enemies will do the same.

I have one child 3 years old, and if it weren't for the new baby I'm expecting, I would leave my home for the husband. I worry a lot about my condition, and Dr. Guy Snively, who has a summer cottage at it makes me cross with my little girl and I know she Junauskas, traveled back on the train with me that isn't good for her. I've just about come to help to find my grandson, who joined me at happens to me. How can I break my husband of this habit of staying out all night? (Mrs.) S.

Only a miracle would bring a man as callous as you describe your husband, to a sense of his obligations. To leave a woman, expecting a baby daily, with no telephone and beyond call of neighbors compels one to believe he's hardly human.

There is a Council of Social Agencies in your city, which I believe is well administered. Apply to them immediately. See if you can get hospitalization and temporary care in a day nursery for your little girl.

Don't let foolish pride stand in your way of accepting help from any source. The address of the Council of Social Agencies may be found in the telephone directory.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, Sunday—On the afternoon of the 26th, after leaving Lake Junauskas, we drove to Moore General Hospital, a military hospital where there are nearly a thousand patients. Many are able to be up and about part of the time. The policy of getting our wounded into hospital near home as possible is well exemplified here. I found only one boy whose home was in California. All the others lived within a radius of a few hundred miles, and some were very near to their families. The boys here are from all fronts.

I WAS ABLE TO GO through only three wards at night. I'm expecting a baby any day now, I bed patients. At the end of one of these wards live quite a distance from the neighbors, and have come upon four wounded German prisoners. Their no telephone. My husband stays out all night sometimes, and doesn't even bother to find out where he is. I am sure I am alone in every way we live up to the Geneva convention, and I only hope our enemies will do the same.

I did not have time, while in Waynesboro, to stop the little gift shop which had sent over some lovely hooked rugs and brightly-colored Indian baskets as decorations for one of the rooms.

More Fur in New Coats

By BETTINA BEDWELL

IUST to show that luxury unlimited is still something that the ladies will do a lot to get, the new fur coat styles go in for models that use more fur, and more precious breeds of it.

Among the chic ways to use up more mink in a coat is the full-length fur revers feature that is a creation of that famous fur designer DeLeo.

The way a fine, wild mink coat, in the super-luxurious shades, looks with such revers can be gleaned from Miss Dulin's sketch. This DeLeo coat has these scarf revers and they look like an extra mink scarf thrown around the neck and falling in widening luxury to the bottom of the coat. The pelts in the coat body are beautifully worked to increase this look of luxury.

NEW YORK, July 31—As ace attraction of Leon & Eddie's for fifteen fabulous years, Eddie Davis has greeted more out-of-town visitors than any other New Yorker, not excepting Grover Whalen. He makes his Broadway musical comedy debut soon in "Have a Good Time."

EDDIE DAVIS says: They say it Patricia Wilder takes all kinds of them to make a wild. To paraphrase a Kilgallen column catch-line... Most people you meet are interesting. Eddie Davis, my namesake playwright, and Patricia Honeychile Wilder, about whom two of our funniest Sunday celebrity incidents revolve. When Eddie was widely advertised as our guest of honor it drew a big crowd—and also a process server who had been trying for weeks to locate him.

Honeychile had been advertised for days as a guest star another night. On the eve of her party all the dailies carried the news that she had filed a petition of bankruptcy. The day after the party a horse named "Bankrupt" ran, and many of those who had been at the party bet it as a "hunch." (Then they were verging on bankruptcy themselves, as a result of the nag, who lagged behind.)

THE OLD FASHIONED mother of the Wesson Brothers, who stayed up so long past her usual bed-time at our celebrity night honoring her sons. But when the clever young comedians played their very first theatrical engagement, in a movie house stage show, Mrs. Wesson greeted them stormily upon their return home around midnight after the last show on opening day.

"Nobody who's any good stays out this late," she scolded them, "and if this happens just once more I'm going to run up and down the aisles of the theater while you're on the stage and yell 'Those boys are no good at all—I'm their mother, and I ought to know!'"

HOLLYWOOD, July 31—Ralph Bellamy of "Guest in the House" tells this story of when the movies were young and Thomas Edison was experimenting with sound for the then, practically new, silent pictures. The inventor approached Theodor Roosevelt and asked him for permission to record on film and in sound one of his political speeches. Roosevelt told Edison he thought the idea "bully," and invited him to come.

"You say, Tom," Roosevelt began, "that this thing here will record what I say and how I say it for years to come?"

"That's correct, Mr. President."

"Without changing a word?"

"That's correct, Mr. President."

Roosevelt smiled. "I won't do it," he said. Edison was disappointed. "But why, Mr. President, why? I don't understand."

"It's cruelty to make a politician listen to something he said years ago. And I'm against cruelty." The President grinned and continued. "Now, if you could invent a machine, Tom, that would permit a politician to change his speech before each election, you would have a fine invention."

VICTOR BARNOVSKY, the German producer-director who discovered Elizabeth Enger, came to this country several years ago, and was unable to catch on to the English language.

One of the stories his friends tell about him concerns the time William Dieterle tried to get him a job at Warners. Dieterle spoke to Jack Warner about him and made an appointment for him. On the way over to the studio, Dieterle stressed to Barnovsky how important it was to give Warner the idea that he spoke English well. Dieterle coached him on what to say to Warner.

"When I introduce you," Dieterle instructed, "say 'How do you do, Mr. Warner. How is your wife?'"

By the time they reached Warner's office, Dieterle had given him his entire dialogue for the interview... Once inside the office, Dieterle introduced Barnovsky to Jack.

His big moment had come. Nervously he shook Jack's hand and said, "How do you do, Mr. Warner? And how do you do your wife?"

WHEN YOU SEE "WILSON," the controversial film made by Darryl Zanuck, it will be interesting to study what has devolved from the original characterization of the late Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge... The character that comes to the screen is not the one originally conceived by the scenarists (with the help of history)... It is the character which another Henry Cabot Lodge, the resigned young Senator and now major in the Army, okayed.

FOR CABOT journeyed to Hollywood for a blue-penciling session on the "Wilson" script... It was necessary for him to "clear" the studio's permission to show his celebrated grandfather on the screen, and the younger Lodge, we hear, did right well by his grandfather's memory with the censorial prerogative he fell heir to.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: It's a sleeper jump almost, but many Bostonians are finding themselves in Lawrence these days en route to other places... This column cannot recommend too strongly a place called Nick Maloff's Restaurant, and in spite of the Ruple quality of the name, the food is nothing less than wonderful... If Nick Maloff could be induced to move to Boston, he would likely make a fortune, and Bostonians would rejoice in an eating place that soon rank with the best of them.

THE STORIES COMING to light about that Democratic Convention in Chicago are fantastic... A few one-punch decisions were scored by Massachusetts delegates (over fellow-delegates) who were victims of ribbers... Speaking of eating places Dist. Atty. William F. Foley found an intriguing one called the State Street Cafeteria... The Old Howard, after the shortest suspension of activities in seasons, will re-open on Aug. 12... Dr. G. Lynde Gately, health commissioner of Boston, has passed all his tests and is awaiting official notification of a commission in the U. S. N. R... When the commission arrives, Mayor Tobin will grant his chief health official a leave of absence.

HERB KOPE, COACH of the Boston pro football team, is making Boston his headquarters now, and practice will get underway shortly... Out in St. Paul, Minn., where ice-skating outdoors is a feature of the summer season to the accompaniment of a symphony orchestra, young Hugh Nawn, 13-year-old son of the Boston contractor, is the newest sensation on skates... In one week, the youngster was called on for three exhibitions... Word sifts back that he is wonderful

THE NEW OLSEN AND JOHNSON revue is to be called "Laughin' Room Only"... The first title, "Jerks Bersek," may have been a good idea, but its chief impracticability lay in the fact that the work "jerk" is one of the principal verbiages of the Hays administration... The new American "secret weapon" has been used only against the Japs.

MANY OF THE YD VETERANS of World War I will recall a front-line singer known as "The Good Luck Girl." Her name was Lydia Alexerak... In a Boston nightclub soon (probably the Latin Quarter) a daughter of "Good Luck Girl" is due to make her professional nightclub debut... She carries the stage name of "Germaine," and that is really her first name... She was named in honor of the wife of Marcel Paris, a French ace in World War I... Germaine (Alexerak) is a grandchild of Sir Maurice Jenks who was Lord Mayor of London in 1931-32... More important, the girl has a rich and beautiful voice, according to persons who have heard her... She has a complete range of three octaves and a lower register that is mellow... Germaine is blonde, 24, and five feet five... She has pawns rivaling the wardrobe of Bernice Parks... She alternates between classics and jive... Perhaps we can pass along a first-hand observation of her talents soon. Many veterans, who knew the girl's mother, will be interested.

24 Days of Racing For Fair Circuit

By JACK CONWAY

THERE WILL be 24 days of racing at the Massachusetts fairs this year with more than $80,000 in purses being offered to the half milers. It will be the first time since racing was legalized in Massachusetts that four fairs have conducted running horse meetings. With each association offering $20,000 in purses, a greater incentive is given to horsemen to ship their thoroughbreds here.

The fair schedule follows:
Marshfield, Aug. 29-Sept. 4.
Northampton, Sept. 4-9.
Brookton, Sept. 11-16.
Great Barrington, Sept. 18-23.

The only conflict is that on Labor Day, Sept. 4, Marshfield will close its six-day meeting on the holiday, while Northampton will open on the same day.

Charley Langille and Ernie Sparrell, representing Marshfield; Mace Dickinson and Eli LaGazze, Northampton; Frank Kingman, Brookton, and Eddie Carroll, Great Barrington, are aiming to have 300 to 400 thoroughbreds at the fair circuit. They believe the big step up in the value of the purses will cause horsemen to ship to Massachusetts from all parts of the East and Canada.

Half-mile racing has grown in popularity in Massachusetts due to the high standards that have been set by the managements of the fairs under the supervision of the Massachusetts Racing Commission.

The Brookton fair grounds have been opened to horses that plan to compete at the Fair circuit. There are already 50 thoroughbreds at Brookton getting ready for the opening test at Marshfield on Aug. 29.

It will be the first time in two years that there has been racing at Marshfield and at Brookton. The fairs did not operate last year on account of transportation restrictions.

Marshfield was the first of the Massachusetts fairs to go in for running horse races. With thousands of people on the South Shore this summer, Marshfield is expected to have the biggest meeting in its history.

The other fairs will also set new marks for attendance and mutual handle, while they expect to offer top racing.

Claimed "Gold" Mines

FIRST FIDDLE, who won the Butler Handicap Saturday with Alex Barth second, was originally claimed for $2500. First Fiddle also took the rich $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap.

Mintlock, winner of the $5000 Racerland at Rockingham on Saturday and the victory in the Plymouth Rock and Tomasello Stakes at Suffolk Downs, was also picked up for $2500 in a claiming race.

These two examples may help to explain why horsemen are eager to claim any promising looking horse.

Navy was one of the best claimers made at a New England meeting last season. He was claimed for $4500 and went on to win many important stakes.

The claiming price of horses has skyrocketed this year. Horses that formerly ran for as low as $800 are now being claimed for $2000 to $3000.

It is not believed that there will be a sharp drop in the price of horseflesh when the war ends. Many new tracks will then open, and the demand for thoroughbreds will be greater than ever.

Rock's Fine Racing

THE FIRST week of the summer meeting at Rockingham furnished top racing. The fields were well balanced and brought together the leading thoroughbreds on the grounds.

Racing Secretary John Turner has not experienced any difficulty in filling his races. He has also been successful in getting as many as three and four class horses to race against each other. The public has been quick to appreciate the type of racing Rockingham has been offering. This has resulted in large attendances and soaring mutual handles.

Draft Boards May Settle It

By FRED HOEY

Superlative pitching, stout hitting and steady defense, the usual formula for a prospective pennant winner, obtains no more, especially in the American League.

This current race, the most torrid in many years and jammed with thrills and excitement, since the Cards declared the National race a closed book, will be decided by the draft boards.

The call of the bugle will soon be heard. And the first team likely to hear it is the Red Sox. When the dashing and slugging Bobby Doerr returns here Thursday he will appear before his draft board for re-examination. Lou Finney, suddenly returning to his brilliant 1942 form, is awaiting the transfer of physical papers from his Alabama board.

Let us not forget that Tex Hughson, the 16-4 winner of the Sox, has been accepted by the Sox and awaits a call. When that will come nobody knows. Maybe the great Tex may not be called until next fall.

The one point that worries managers is the recent order to 31-year-old Rolie Hemsey of the Yanks to report for induction next week. When Rolie goes the Yanks might just as say farewell to their pennant chances.

But meanwhile the Red Sox have immediate business at hand and, of course, will let the draft board business follow its natural and logical course. Today they shoot against Cleveland with Mike Ryba on the mound. Then in tomorrow's windup they will have Tex Hughson seeking No. 37.

After tomorrow's game the Sox board the rattlers for home where they open a week-end series with Washington.

The Red Sox have been splendid on this present trip. After losing four of the five games to Yanks in New York, they proceeded to win eight and lose only five against the stiffest of opposition in the West.

Bobby Doerr, still leading the league in batting and home runs, hit safely in 13 straight games. Pete Fox hit safely in 11 straight.

The Red Sox by splitting yesterday's twin bill and the Browns cleaning two from Washington now find themselves 4½ games behind the St. Louis boys. The Sox hold only a half game on the Yanks and only a two-game lead on Cleveland, a team that has been going like sixty this past week.

The next two days will be important ones in this current race.

Dilboy Post Offers Another Fine Show

Continuing its boxing programs, the George Dilboy Post, V. F. W., will stage the fourth in its series of amateur shows Wednesday night, Aug. 9, under the floodlights of Dilboy Field, Somerville, with competition in all classes from bantamweight through heavyweight.

Javery Receives Help From Unusual Source

By BILL GRIMES

Throughout the long first game, which was twice interrupted by rain, Jim Mandeville poured soothing words into Al Javery's ears at the working press gate.

Manager Bob Coleman has been very much concerned over Javery failing to be a consistent winner this season. "Jave" was rated as the outstanding hard luck pitcher of the National League during the early months of the current campaign. He was charged with six defeats before he turned in his first victory. Then, he displayed a trace of his old time form and was on the winning end of three out of five games. But, going into yesterday's game, "Bear Tracks" has suffered six straight setbacks and it was very apparent that his "darber" was down.

Mandeville has been one of Al Javery's staunchest supporters since the pride of North Oxford joined the Braves. He predicted that "Jave" would be a 20-game winner this season. He appreciated the fact that it was bad breaks, not poor pitching, that cost his boy his first six defeats. He was one of the first fans to learn that Javery was handicapped by a lame wrist, which had his control off the beam. And, moreover, he suspected, and rightly, that the recent string of defeats was getting under Javery's skin.

So, Mandeville, while keeping one eye on the press gate, spent the first game, building up Javery's confidence. And, like all good salesmen, he didn't spend all of the time talking baseball. He diverted the conversation from baseball to bowling to Jesse Burkett and then back to the national pastime.

And, what good did Mandeville's pep talk do Al Javery? Well, "Jave" went out and beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 2 to 0 to chalk up his first victory since June 17. He gave the Pirates two hits, one on the sixth by Art Cucurullo and another in the ninth by Jim Russell. And, until the final frame, when Russell was allowed to go down without a play being made on him, not a Frischman reached second base.

The unpredictable Braves crossed everyone up yesterday, when they took both ends of the doubleheader from Pittsburgh. They

This is the picture of any young man... it could be you. You can go left toward baldness by ignoring nature's warnings, or you can go right to Warner's to find out if you can save your hair.

Which way will you go? Toward baldness? Or toward John Warner? A private scalp examination and consultation is available to you at our offices without charge or obligation.

Thousands of men and women have saved or improved their hair through treatment by John E. Warner and Associates but hundreds of others have been rejected because they waited too long.

Fees for treatment are very moderate and are payable as the treatments are taken—not in advance. There is a separate department for women.

Hours: Mon., Wed., Fri., 11 a. m. to 9 p. m. Tues., Thurs., Sat., 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Marblehead Race Week in the Offing

By JOE AHERN

After a week-end of dreary racing brought about by adverse weather conditions yachtsmen all along the coast will start hauling today to ready their draft for Marblehead Race Week that starts Saturday at the old port.

The general exodus from water to land began Saturday when a peapop fog, completely blanketing every bay and inlet the length of the New England coast, and while the fog ruined practically all racing, it gave several skippers an extra day or two to get boats in condition for America's Blue Ribbon sail water event.

Opening honors go to the Eastern Yacht Club which takes over the booth and the prize awarding inclusive with a layoff Sunday for the Pleon's Junior program; Boston Yacht Club has its usual Wednesday regatta—always the best day for weather with the exception of last year when a flat mist replaced the usually ruffled seas—and Corinthian takes over for the last three days.

Despite all efforts to check the number of boats coming for the races, committee members and fans are only guessing how many starters will cross the line Saturday with the most conservative estimate around 200.

MAI HAVE 200 STARTERS

With the regulations that were in force last year, Race Week had a much better turnout than anticipated and with the new regulations, it's very safe to say that 200 starters is a very conservative guess.

The encouraging sign is that fleets that have been absent for two years, such as the Manchester 1 boats, the sleek modern racers, will come from Boston and Sandy Bay; the International Stars are coming from Cape Ann to compete for the Charles Francis Adams Trophy, and such smaller boats as the Cape Cod Knockabouts, Might Mites and Snipes will be out in complement.

Another class that seems to have come back to life is the Massachusetts Bay Indians, once the largest class in numbers on the Eastern seaboard. The fleet has been reduced to a dozen in Boston Bay but with the Marblehead squadron joining that from Newburyport and other northern ports, the class may reach into the twenties again.

The Radios, Winabouts and Towns will vie for honors as far as numbers go and if full fleets are able to race each class may start as many as 30.

Many of the larger ocean racers have been released from patrol service and if they are on hand, plus the large motor squadron that usually makes the affair a week's rendezvous, old Marblehead will return to its previous brilliance as the yachting center of the world.

Happy Todd Enters Texas Victory Open

DALLAS, July 31 (AP)—Happy Todd, who once said he played golf to get publicity for his insurance business, has decided to make golf his business. The former western amateur champion will enter the $153,333 Texas Victory open to be held here in September, as a pro.

Todd's first important victory came in 1933 when he won the western junior open at the age of 16. In the last national open he was the low amateur, finishing behind six pros.

Hub Pros Await Only Go-Ahead

The speculative stage has been erased from the professional football picture here in Boston.

Close to 40 players are already under contract and the bids for pre-season training have already been selected. The boys will gather at Dean Academy under Coach Herb Kopf on Aug. 15 and work there twice a day for three weeks getting into shape for the big thing ahead.

Details have been ironed out in all respects, even to sharing in the famed American-Record fund for hospitalized war veterans.

Through the generosity of Owner Ted Collins a percentage of the Yanks-Giants game, the best of the four home attractions, will be turned over to the fund.

This game takes place on Oct. 8 at Fenway Park and it should be the attraction of the year.

The Giants will be one of the strongest teams in the land this year and the freshmen Yanks are going to be a lot better than most people believe.

The locals already have such backs as George Cafego, former All-America from Tennessee; Dave Smuckler, the greatest fullback Temple ever had, and Teddy Williams, whose feats at Boston College will long be remembered. Give these backs a little support up front and the Yanks will give any club an interesting afternoon.

DETROIT, July 31 (INS)—The largest baseball crowd of the season—49,994 fans, including 2058 servicemen, saw Detroit and New York split a double feature yesterday, the Tigers winning the second 13 to 7 after dropping the first to the Yanks 10 to 2.

Notes of Tribe Two-Game Win

Just as soon as Benny Bengough commented "We haven't lost a Sunday game because of bad weather this season," the sun disappeared and a thunderstorm began to make up in the distance. . . . After they had won six out of their eight starts at home, the Braves drew only 15,000 for the double-header with the Cardinals a week ago yesterday. . . . Then, after losing seven out of eight, they played to 8465 with the Pirates yesterday.

Tommy Holmes came up with another super-duper catch in the fourth round of the opener, when he went well off his best and speared a smash off Johnny Barrett's bat, which was very well tagged and ticketed for "three," with Pete Coscarart on first, as a result of a Dee Phillips' error. . . . As Coscarart was well on his way to third base, when Tommy made the catch, it was a simple matter to double up the Pirate second sacker.

Stew Hofferth did his best to spark the Braves to break the scoreless tie by opening the second and fourth innings with singles but he didn't get any cooperation from his teammates. . . . After Phillips, who, on both occasions, moved him down to second with sacrifice hits.

BARRETT OPENED STRONG

"Red" Barrett didn't allow a hit until one man was down in the 5th, when Babe Dahlgren singled. . . . Possibility "Red" was thinking about hurling a no-hitter and eased up on DiMaggio, after Dahlgren's hit. . . . At any rate, Vince slapped a two-run homer over the left field fence. . . . And that feat didn't help Barrett, for he gave up hits to "Spud" Davis and Johnny Zak.

Before the game "Whitey" Wietelmann declared that he can make double plays and he proved his contention and incidentally pulled Barrett out of a hole in the 5th. . . . The first game called, after Ab Wright fanned for the second time in the 5th, with the Pirates leading, 2 to 0.

In none of his many public appearances did Barrett ever have such a stage setting as when he returned to the mound, after the game had been resumed. . . . He pitched from a yellow halo of sawdust. . . . The Braves passed up another opportunity to score in the 6th when Stew Hofferth on third and Phillips on second, as a single and a two-bagger, "Chuck" Workman and Max Macon failed in their pinch hitting assignments. . . . Then Mike Sandlock went in at third base and Ira Hutchinson replaced Barrett on the mound.

On his second try to make the old "D. P." "Whitey" crossed the bag before he received Mike Sandlock's throw and Umpire Bill Stewart had nothing to do but call Babe Dahlgren safe. . . . With the rain falling heavily, "Buck" Etchison stepped out of the batter's box to get the sign from Tom Sheehan and Umpire Tom Dunn called the game. . . . Tommy Cummings, who handles the concessions for the Stevens Brothers, was the only one in Braves Field that didn't enter a protest about the first game being interrupted by rain. BILL GRIMES

BUTCH NIEMAN SCORES FOR BRAVES—Dashing Braves' outfielder scores from second on Dee Phillips' single in the second inning of the second game yesterday at Braves Field. Al Lopez, the Pirate catcher, received the throw from Vince DiMaggio and then dropped the ball, as indicated in picture. Something very unusual for Lopez to do. The umpire is Umpire George Magerkurth of Joliet, Ill., not the prison, but that is his home town.

200 Peppy Kids in Swim Title Events

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Over 200 kids, 15 and under, will be storming the South Boston Yacht Club Sunday afternoon as finalists in the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser-Boston Park Department Swimming Championships with 21 events, including three New England A. A. U. championships on the gala program.

This meet will be held in conjunction with the Massachusetts Youth Committee whose plans have been completely responsible for four of the races on the lengthy card.

It was through the Massachusetts Youth Committee that the kids, 10 and 11 years of age, were given the opportunity to learn to swim this past winter in local indoor pools. The entire fields in the four contests, given over to the youngsters, will be pupils of the schedule arranged by Timmy Cummings of the Park Department. They'll all be demonstrating the efficiency of the water safety campaign of this past winter and summer.

Their events, all over the 25-yard course, will include free-style and backstroke races for both boys and girls—with their instructors from all points in the city rooting for their individual students to capture first place.

ALL BEACHES REPRESENTED

Finalists in all events will be qualifiers from seven elimination meets held at Tennen Beach, Dorchester; Carson Beach, South Boston; L Street Boys' bath-house, South Boston; L Street Girls' bath-house, South Boston; Head House, City Point; North End Beach Park and the World War Memorial Park Beach earlier this month.

Other events include 25-yards free-style and backstroke for boys and girls 12-13 years of age; 50-yards free-style, backstroke and breaststroke for boys and girls 14-15 years of age; 200-yard freestyle relay for boys and girls all ages; and girls and boys diving.

NEAAU championships to be settled last Senior One Mile Championship for men; 100-meters free-style junior for women and 100-meters breast-stroke junior for women.

Where and When to Learn to Swim This Week:

(Sponsored by the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser and the Boston Park Department).
Tennen Beach, Dorchester—11 a. m. to 3 p. m.—Instructor Paul McGuillicuddy.
Davis Hill Beach, Dorchester—11 a. m. to 3 p. m.—Instructor James O'Brien.

West Roxbury Makes Last Bid

Aided considerably by the acquisition of Eddie Barry, better known as an Olympic hockey player, the West Roxbury A. A. makes its last bid for a playoff berth in the Boston Park League which goes into its final week of regular play tonight.

West Roxbury is in the cellar, trailing the Hicks Engineering Club of Hyde Park by one point, and tackles the high-flying Linehan Club at Billings Field this evening and is bound to be tough. Manager John Radley, realizing that he must get off to a good start, will start his ace, Lou Tessier, and Bill Benson figures to use Joe McKinley or Bill Cunningham.

Other games scheduled being together the Navy Yard and Dick Casey Club at Dorchester Town Field.

Lawley's Shipyard and Hicks Engineering at Draper Park.

Lawley's has a good chance to pick up a couple of points in its fourth place battle with the idle Arsenal when it meets Hicks at Draper Park.

Browns Push Lead 4½ Games Over Sox

By Associated Press

Two weeks ago, after blanking the St. Louis Cardinals for his 15th victory of the Cincinnati Reds' first 77 games, it was an even bet that Bucky Walters would win 30 games this year. Now it appears that he will have a difficult time winning 20.

The Redlegs' ace righthander failed yesterday in his fourth attempt to notch his 16th win as the New York Giants bumped him for 10 hits for his fifth defeat, 6-0, in the first game of a double-header.

Last year Bucky got off to a hot start winning only five of his first 15 games, but came back to win five in a row and nine of the next 10. This year, after winning 15 of his first 17, Walters has dropped three in a row.

DIVISION OPPOSITION

In his first 18 games, Walters gave up 29 runs in 151 innings, but in his next four, he was nicked for 28 runs in only 22 innings. And except for the Giants, Walters has faced Brooklyn, Boston and Philadelphia, all second division teams.

The Reds rebounded after garnering only five hits off Rube Fischer in the opener to take the splitcap 9-3 and gain a split. Hank McCormick hit a pair of homers, driving in five Redlegs in the afterpiece.

The St. Louis Browns increased their first-place lead over the second place Boston Red Sox to 4½ games, their biggest lead since the first week of the season, by sweeping a twin-bill from the Washington Senators, 2-1 in 10 innings and 7-0.

Don Gutteridge starred in both games, his 10th-inning double scoring the two winning runs in the opener, and his three hits playing a big part in winning the second.

game. Bob Murfreci notched his 11th victory in the opener.

After rookie Tommy Warren snapped the St. Louis Cardinals nine-game winning streak by pitching the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 10-4 first game victory, the Cards came back to win the nightcap, 9-7, in 11 innings.

Ray Sanders paced the Cards with a three-run homer, which enabled him to gain the league lead in runs batted in with 71. Dixie Walker's ninth-inning home run forced the game overtime.

YANKS-TIGERS SPLIT

The New York Yankees and the Detroit Tigers divided a double-header before the day's largest crowd, 47,936 paid admissions, the Yankees winning the opener, 10-2, and the Tigers annexing the nightcap, 13-7. Hank Borowy won his 13th game, ending the Yankees' five-game Briggs Stadium losing streak, and Hal Newhouser gained his 16th triumph in the finale.

The Chicago Cubs made it six straight by taking both ends of a twin-bill from the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-2 and 11-2, to climb to within a half game of the first division. Hank Wyse won his 16th in the curtain-raiser, and Les Fleming his seventh in the nightcap.

The Red Sox lost a full game to the Browns by splitting a twin-bill with the Cleveland Indians, the Red Sox coming from behind to win the opener 5-3 and when Mgr. Lou Boudreau doubled home the winning run in the ninth inning.
